

Greetings to all our suppliers,

This is Youngsoo Shin, CEO of Malesela Taihan Electric Cable (Pty) Ltd.

As we nearing the end of the year 2025, the Year of restoration— restoring what was lost financially, physically, emotionally —and expecting divine elevation, empowerment, and glory. I would wish your company continued prosperity and success.

From last year, M-TEC took a significant step towards securing new growth engines by launching our new CCV MV manufacturing line. This milestone has enabled us to establish full value chain capabilities in the subsea cable business. In addition, we have completed installation and commissioning of our new tinning line machine within the first half of this year.

We are proud to announce that our mother company Taihan have earned an A rating for four consecutive years in ESG assessments and to have received an A rating for two consecutive years in the Fair Trade Compliance Program (CP) evaluations.

These achievements were made possible through their steadfast commitment to compliance policies aimed at strengthening our global competitiveness, as well as the active participation of employees and partners in supporting the corporate standards.

As M-TEC we wish to achieve the same through your support and adherence to our compliance policies.

We anticipate that global corporations will continue to raise the bar on compliance and ESG requirements. At M-TEC, we are committed to proactively adapting to these changes to ensure sustainable management and responsible growth.

We sincerely hope that our partners will continue to align with our policies and compliance culture. With mutual trust and cooperation, we believe we can build a foundation for sustainable growth together. We look forward to working closely with you toward a brighter future.

As the New Year approaches, we kindly ask for your cooperation in eliminating any unfair business practices.

If you encounter any improper solicitations—such as requests for money or gifts—from any of our employees, please report such incidents through the <Reporting Procedure>.

May the New Year bring good health and happiness to you, your colleagues, and your families.

Thank you.

Youngsoo Shin
